FLEXIBLE INVESTMENT

Investment Week's Investment Company of the Year Awards recognise and reward excellence in close-ended fund management. The awards highlight investment companies that produce consistent performance and where there is, in the judges' opinion, a high likelihood that the investors will not be disappointed in the future.

The judging panel was made up of some of the UK's leading researchers and investors in investment trusts and closed-ended companies, as well as several senior board members with many years' experience in the industry. The judges identified the most consistent performers and top managers across a range of sectors. RIT Capital Partners plc was delighted to be announced as the winner of the 2016 Investment Week Investment Company of the Year Awards for the Flexible Investment Sector.
